AGM BREAKFAST

Lessons From a Life of Crime

Stephen will touch on issues such as being true to yourself, courage in decision making, reality vs perception, the imposter syndrome, ethical conduct and the need in law for certainty. Stephen will refer to criminal cases from his career that illustrate these points.

Stephen has enjoyed a 40-year career in courtrooms across the country and across the world. Stephen's legal practice was a mixture of both defending and prosecuting those accused of crime. His success as an advocate has seen him honoured nationally by his elevation to Queen's Counsel, he has been the recipient of awards from two international jurisdictions (the U.S.A. and the Kingdom of the Netherlands) and he has received further international acclaim by being appointed as Vice President of the International Association of Prosecutors and also by being appointed to the Executive Committee of the International Association of Anti-Corruption Authorities. In recent times, he has sat as a Justice of the High Court and the Court of Appeal in the Solomon Islands. Since then his practice has concentrated on human rights and domestic violence issues and has addressed gatherings of jurists and Parliamentarians on these issues in New Zealand, Fiji, the Solomon Islands and the Marshall Islands. As a result of this work, he has been described as a "Champion of Human Rights in the Pacific".
